MARK H. TUOHEY III JOINS BROWN RUDNICK'S WASHINGTON DC OFFICE

Addition of Veteran Litigator Will Significantly Bolster Brown Rudnick's White-Collar Practice

Boston, MA, June 3, 2010 – Brown Rudnick, an international law firm, today announced that Mark. H. Tuohey III has joined the Firm's Washington DC office as a Partner in the Litigation Department.

Bringing over 30 years of experience, Mr. Tuohey practices in complex civil and criminal investigation, internal corporate investigations and compliance programs. He represents corporations, their officers and directors, and individuals in civil and white-collar criminal litigation, internal corporate investigations, and Congressional investigations. In addition, Mr. Tuohey is involved in alternative dispute resolution matters including arbitration and mediation, in the U.S. and abroad.

Mr. Tuohey has represented clients in a variety of national and international investigations and litigation matters. These matters have included investigations by the United States Department of Justice, the SEC and other federal regulatory agencies, congressional oversight committees, as well as investigative agencies in Europe, Africa, Asia, the Middle East and Latin America.

A former federal prosecutor in Washington, D.C., Mr. Tuohey has served on occasion as special prosecutor appointed by the government to conduct investigations into public policy issues, including policing, official corruption, and rule of law initiatives. He served as a Special Counsel to the D.C. Council on Anti-Terrorism Preparedness and as the Chair of the District of Columbia Sports and Entertainment Commission from 2004 - 2007, where he oversaw the return of Major League Baseball to Washington, DC. From 1994 – 1995, he was Deputy Independent Counsel, Whitewater Investigation.
